RDCRS Communications Department wins two BRAVO Awards

For immediate release – October 24, 2019

Red Deer Catholic Regional Schools would like to congratulate their communications department, who has won two BRAVO Awards at the CACE-ACACÉ National Conference in Winnipeg on Monday, October 21. The Canadian Association of Communicators in Education \(CACE\) recognizes and honours exemplary work in all aspects of school public relations, communications, marketing and engagement.

“The Board of Trustees is thrilled to see the outstanding, high-quality work of our communications team recognized by their peers in the communications industry,” said Board Chair, Anne Marie Watson at Red Deer Catholic Regional Schools.

“We would like to congratulate our communications department on winning these BRAVO Awards. Our division strives for excellence. It is great to see not only our students but also our staff be recognized for their achievements,” said Superintendent, Dr. V. Paul Mason at Red Deer Catholic Regional Schools.

The department received a Coup de Coeur award for their 12 Days of Christmas project and an Award of Distinction Communications Piece for the RDCRS READS Book Talk Videos.
